What Others Say...

Let's Make AA Better

I love AA. It saved my life and, more so, gave me a life worth living. I show my gratitude by going to a lot of meetings, greeting newcomers warmly, doing service work at my Home Group as well as Intergroup and looking for other opportunities to give back. My way of making AA better is to suit up and show up. I want to look presentable at meetings to perhaps be a good example of how we clean up once we're sober. I put on a clean shirt and slacks when I go to a meeting. How different that is from when I was drinking, wearing the same clothes for days at a time. I get to meetings early to help if need be and I stay afterward to visit and clean up. Another way that I believe I can make AA better is to talk AA. I mean I go to meetings and talk about the Steps and the ever important Traditions. I can ask how someone is doing and really mean it. I can refuse to listen to gossip and surely not to repeat any I might hear. I can be a positive example today. I've certainly got a long way to go to achieve all these things consistently. But I strive for excellence because that is what the old-timers taught me; be the best you can be and pray that God will guide you on a path that makes you a little better every day. That's my goal on the 24 hour plan that I live.

I owe it to the newcomer to show up and suit up, to be attentive and caring, to talk AA at meetings and to live in such a way that someone might say, "I want what those AA's have."

Concept 10 Every service responsibility should be matched by an equal service authority, the scope of such authority to be always well defined whether by tradition, by resolution, by specific job description or by appropriate charters and by-laws.

1. Do we understand authority and responsibility as it relates to group conscience decisions by GSR's, DCM's and area delegates.
2. Why is delegation of "authority" so important to the overall effectiveness of A.A.?
3. Do we use this concept to define the scope of "authority"?

District 13C: Julia S reported the Dist. is hosting a workshop, Putting the Puzzle Together Jan.7-8 at the Clifton Chenier Center. The District will meet in Oct. to elect alternates.
Linda announced the Scott Group will have their annual Gumbo fundraiser for Central Office Nov.12 at 6:00pm.

District 13E David reported the General Service Conference Report is available on the website. Adam H. is the new Grapevine Representative. He suggests CORs encourage group members to subscribe to The Grapevine. The Area 27 website has been streamlined.

Old Business None New business None The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer

Where did the phrase "I am responsible" come from?

The Responsibility Declaration was written by Al S., a former Grapevine editor and trustee of Alcoholics Anonymous for the 1965 International Convention held in Toronto. Bill W. expanded on the theme in an essay called "Responsibility Is Our Theme" for the July 1965 Grapevine. It became a regular feature of the Grapevine shortly thereafter. This goes hand in hand with the Fifth Tradition. The long form says "Each Alcoholics Anonymous group ought to be a spiritual entity having but one primary purpose—that of carrying its message to the alcoholic who still suffers."

Notes From All Around...

But, what of the man who is conscious of considerable moral imperfection, perhaps of the habit of grave sin, and is at the same time sincerely desirous of spiritual growth? Is he to relinquish the quest for spiritual knowledge until he has first reformed his conduct? By no means. As a matter of fact, any attempt to improve himself morally without spiritual growth is foredoomed to failure. No more can a man-to use Lincoln's phrase-raise himself off the ground by pulling on his own bootstraps, than the sinner can reform himself by his own personal efforts. The only result of relying upon himself in such cases will be repeated failure, consequent discouragement, and probably ultimate despair of doing any good. The only one thing for such a person to do is to pray regularly, especially at the actual time of temptation, and to throw the responsibility for success upon God. He must carry on in this way, no matter how many times he may fail; and, if he continues to pray, and especially if he prays in the scientific way, he will, as a matter of fact, very soon find that the power of evil has been broken, and that he is free from that particular sin. To pray scientifically is to keep affirming that God is helping him, that the temptation has no power against him, and constantly to claim that his own real nature is spiritual and perfect. This is ever so much more powerful than merely to invoke the help of God. In this way moral regeneration and spiritual enfoldment will go hand in hand. The Christian life does not require that we possess perfection of character, or else, which of us would be able to live it? What it does require is honest, genuine striving for that perfection.
